OBITUARY

Mr. James Ealey was born September 7, 1907 in Camden County, Georgia. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ealey.

At an early age he became a member of Brown's Chapel A. M. E. Church, where he served faithfully in many capacities; such as layman, steward, class leader, superintendent of Sunday School, a teacher and also a member of the choir.

He was also an active member of all civic organizations in the community where he resided.

Mr. Ealey and the late Ollie Mae Chance were united in Holy Matrimony December 28, 1928. To this union two daughters were born, Carletha P. Jenkins, who preceded them in death, and Geraldine T. Walker.

After an extended period of illness, he passed away in Gilman Hospital Saturday, July 9, 1983.

He leaves to mourn his passing a loving daughter, Geraldine T. Walker; three granddaughters: Vernessa Simmons, Katrina Jenkins and Esther Walker; one grandson, Norman Walker; a devoted son-in-law Alphonso Walker.

Four greatgrand children, Roshita, Shayla, Steven and Kia Walker. One sister, Mrs. Ella Turner; three sisters-in-law: Mrs. Katie L. Flanders, Mrs. Thelma Chance, and Mrs. Lonnie Chance. One brother-in-law, Roosevelt Chance, and one granddaughter-in-law, Cathy Walker; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and other sorrowing relatives and friends.

When I put out to sea.*
